Admission requirements:

TOEFL iBT: 85, PBT: 550, IELTS: 6.5

Students from non-English speaking countries are recommended to have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 specified. The subject GRE is optional. Students must have five years of relevant work experience. The foreign students must pay an additional fee of $65.

Office of Residential Living, 115 South 1400 East #201
admissions@physics.utah.edu

Department of Physics & Astronomy, 115 South 1400 East #201
admissions@physics.utah.edu

TOEFL iBT: 85, TOEFL PBT: 550, IELTS: 6.5

For admission, a bachelor's degree in physics or a non-thesis M.S. is required. Master of Instrumentation: 30 graduate semester hours required. A minimum of 45 graduate semester hours is required for a Ph.D. program. The Ph.D. program in medical physics is available.

Admission deadline (Fall semester): February 1st.

Faculty

Distinguished Professors

Professors

Research Professors

Associate Professors

Graduate Degree Requirements

Masters: 30-semester hour with a 3.0 grade average in an approved course with satisfactory performance on Departmental Common Exam. Either thesis or non-thesis M.S. is available. Master of Instrumentation: 30 graduate semester hours with a C.P. grade point average of 3.0 required. Nineteen to twenty hours will be related to the instrumentation project.

DOCTORATE: 45 semester hour required. Satisfactory performance on Departmental Common Exam or GRE Physics requires permission to admission to Ph.D. program (no set minimum). Satisfactory performance (3.0 average) in an approved course program is required. Qualifying Exam, dissertation, and dissertation oral required. Teaching experience required, and one of last two years must be in residence. No language requirement.

OTHER PROGRAMS Interdisciplinary studies available in chemical physics, and a variety of other areas by special arrangement. The L20 program in medical physics is an interdisciplinary program in which complex medical and biological systems are studied using physics-based techniques and models. The REU program is aimed at current college students.

University of Utah Campus, Salt Lake City

Graduate application fee required: $45
Foreign students - $65

Admission deadline (Fall semester): February 1st

Admission requirements: For admission to the graduate program, a bachelor's degree in physics is required with a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 specified. The subject GRE is optional. Students must have five years of relevant work experience. The foreign students must pay an additional fee of $65.

TOEFL iBT: 85, TOEFL PBT: 550, IELTS: 6.5

For admission, a bachelor's degree in physics or a non-thesis M.S. is required. Master of Instrumentation: 30 graduate semester hours required. A minimum of 45 graduate semester hours is required for a Ph.D. program. The Ph.D. program in medical physics is available.

Admission deadline (Fall semester): February 1st.

Faculty

Distinguished Professors

Professors

Research Professors

Associate Professors

Graduate Degree Requirements

Masters: 30-semester hour with a 3.0 grade average in an approved course with satisfactory performance on Departmental Common Exam. Either thesis or non-thesis M.S. is available. Master of Instrumentation: 30 graduate semester hours with a C.P. grade point average of 3.0 required. Nineteen to twenty hours will be related to the instrumentation project.

DOCTORATE: 45 semester hour required. Satisfactory performance on Departmental Common Exam or GRE Physics requires permission to admission to Ph.D. program (no set minimum). Satisfactory performance (3.0 average) in an approved course program is required. Qualifying Exam, dissertation, and dissertation oral required. Teaching experience required, and one of last two years must be in residence. No language requirement.

OTHER PROGRAMS Interdisciplinary studies available in chemical physics, and a variety of other areas by special arrangement. The L20 program in medical physics is an interdisciplinary program in which complex medical and biological systems are studied using physics-based techniques and models. The REU program is aimed at current college students.